Senior Software Engineer | AI Systems Architect

Buenos Aires, Argentina (remote) · josemanuelvigil@gmail.com · linkedin.com/in/josevigil · josevigil.com

Summary

Software engineer and systems architect with 25+ years of experience spanning IT infrastructure, mobile and web development, and technical leadership — including founding and running multiple technology companies from concept to production. Holder of five granted patents in touch and gesture interface technology. Sole founder of Cognituum, an ongoing research initiative into cognitive continuity in AI-assisted workflows — how systems can preserve context and intent across sessions and tools instead of losing them. That research informs how I architect systems today: provider-agnostic, built to hold context rather than just execute the next request.

Open to remote, part-time engagements in systems architecture, AI-assisted workflow design, and senior development.
